

ALFable

Clear decisions.
Hands-on delivery.

The founder-led strategy & product practice of Alex Filip.

One word, four true readings

It reads as one warm, memorable word — and carries four meanings, each of them real. No invented etymology; the layers are simply there.

ALF

You, signed — not spelled

Your initials woven in, not stamped on a plaque. Personal presence without a founder's-name letterhead.

...able

Capable. Enabling.

The suffix of competence — reliable, capable, actionable. What you are, and what you make your clients.

aff·able

Warm. Direct. In your corner.

Said aloud it brushes against affable — approachable, human, the senior partner who tells you the truth.

fable

Complexity, made usable

A fable turns something complicated into something short and usable. It names the method — quietly.

A note on restraint. This page is the one place the fable belongs. In everyday messaging we don't explain the pun — we just say complexity, made usable. The metaphor lives in the About page and a content series called The Fables, not in every sentence.

Judgment, taste, and the hands to build

ALFable is the founder-led strategy and product practice of Alex Filip. It helps SMEs turn complex business and digital problems into clear decisions — then helps put those decisions to work.

WHAT YOU ARE

The trusted senior partner

Two decades inside large corporations, now sitting on your side of the table. Experienced, direct, human.

WHAT YOU DO

Decide, then build

Not advice that disappears into fog. The clear call — and the hands to make the thing real.

HOW IT FEELS

Discernment, made warm

Seeing what matters, saying it plainly, making it usable — without the cold of a consultancy.

THE PROMISE

Clear decisions. Hands-on delivery.

The advantage isn't only that you know what to do. It's that you can also help create the thing — the site, the AI system, the automation, the brand.

Four pillars. One consistent story.

Wide enough to cover the work, narrow enough to remember. Always these four, always in this order.

01 Strategy & communication

Direction, positioning, and the message that carries it. The decision, made clear and sayable.

02 AI & automation

Practical AI systems and automations that remove real work — scoped to what actually pays off.

03 Web & digital products

Websites, apps, and software — designed and built, not just recommended. From €-real projects to shipped products.

04 Brand & content

Identity, UX, and the words — so the thing you build is understood and trusted, not just functional.

Later, under the same roof. ALFable's own products, tools, and publishing (including The Fables) grow under the parent brand over time — introduced as ventures, not presented as day-one client services.

Secured, and clear to build on

PRIMARY — SECURED

alfable.com

Registered and owned. This is the home.
Everything points here.

POSTPONED — BY CHOICE

alfable.ro

Available, intentionally deferred. Add later if a distinct Romanian presence earns its keep.

ASSET	STATUS	ACTION
alfable.com	✓ owned	Done. Point DNS when the site is ready.
@alfable — social handles	TO CLAIM	Grab on LinkedIn, Instagram, X to hold the name.
alfable.co / .io	OPTIONAL	Defensive holds only if budget allows.
alfable.ro	POSTPONED	Revisit when a local-market case appears.
Trademark	TO CLEAR	OSIM (RO) + EUIPO search, class 35 & 42, before print.

A coined word like ALFable carries low trademark-conflict risk. Clear it once, then build without looking over your shoulder.

Warm, sharp, and unhurried

Human enough to trust, direct enough to be worth paying — and contemporary, digitally fluent, willing to say the uncomfortable thing plainly.

IS

- Discerning — sees what matters, drops the rest.
- Direct — says the hard thing kindly, but says it.
- Capable — can build the thing, not just name it.
- Contemporary — fluent in AI and modern tooling.
- Useful — every conversation ends somewhere.

IS NOT

- Loud, salesy, or hype-driven.
- A faceless agency or big-four imitation.
- Fond of buzzwords, ninjas, "passionate teams."
- Polite to the point of vague.
- The advisor who recommends, then vanishes.

Say the answer first

Lead with the call, then the reasoning. Busy owners need the point up top.

One real detail beats ten adjectives

Concrete numbers and specifics. Show the work, don't decorate it.

Confident, never cold

Certainty delivered like a person, not a policy document.

The core line, and the rest

CORE TAGLINE — USE EVERYWHERE

Complexity, made usable.

Romanian: „Complexitate, făcută utilă.”

SUPPORTING LINE

Clear decisions.
Hands-on delivery.

„Decizii clare. Livrare practică.”

CAMPAIGN LINES — OPTIONAL, NOT CORE

Reserved for The Fables, the manifesto, or a campaign — never the default sell.

“The moral of your story.”

“The fable, not the footnotes.”

ONE-LINER

ALFable turns complex business and digital problems into clear decisions — and helps put them to work.

BOILERPLATE

ALFable is the founder-led strategy and product practice of Alex Filip. After 23 years inside large corporations, he works directly with SMEs — turning complex business and digital problems into clear decisions, then helping build the strategy, AI, software and brand that put them to work.

One signature, four applications

Built from your marks: the editorial wordmark, the AF monogram, and the authored alf. seal. Sketches to hand a designer — sharp geometry, custom lettering, one ember accent.

 The primary wordmark consists of the word "ALFable" in a high-contrast serif font. "ALF" is in a dark, bold serif, and "able" is in a lighter, italicized serif.

01 · PRIMARY WORDMARK

EDITORIAL SIGNATURE — HIGH-CONTRAST SERIF, ITALIC "ABLE"

 The founder monogram is the letters "AF" in a bold, serif font, followed by a small orange dot (the ember) to the right.

02 · FOUNDER MONOGRAM

AF LIGATURE + EMBER — AVATAR & APP ICON

03 · AUTHORED SEAL

RING TEXT: ALFABLE · ALEX FILIP

04 · FAVICON / AVATAR

STRIPPED TO ALF. OR AF + EMBER

 The endorsement lockup is the word "ALFable" in the same serif font as the primary wordmark, with "ALF" in dark and "able" in orange.

BY ALEX FILIP

05 · ENDORSEMENT LOCKUP
FOR FORMAL / SIGNATURE USE

Ring-text alternate: ALEX FILIP · MAKE IT USABLE. The seal is a signature of approval — fewer words, stronger geometry, genuinely custom handwriting. No literal book icon; the name already says fable.

Warm paper, real black, one ember

Cream and ember keep it authored and European. True black — not only soft brown — gives the tension and the capability to sell an AI product, not just an essay.

THE SIGNATURE ACCENT

alf.

A handwriting face (Caveat, or a true custom signature) for the seal and personal sign-offs only. Never for body text.

Rule: Playfair for the few big words; Inter for everything read, bold where it should hit; the script only as a signature; mono only for detail. Three voices, never blurred.

Before & after

The same message, moved from agency-speak to ALFable — direct, specific, and about delivery, not just advice.

AVOID

"We leverage cutting-edge AI and synergistic digital solutions to transform your business and unlock next-level growth."

ALFABLE

"AI can take about a day of manual work out of your week. I'll show you which day — and then build the thing that does it."

AVOID

"Our passionate team delivers holistic, end-to-end strategic consulting tailored to your journey."

ALFABLE

"Three options. Two are expensive distractions. Here's the one I'd choose, and I can start building it this week."

THE TEST

If a sentence could sit on any agency's homepage, cut it. Keep only what a senior partner would actually say to your face — then what they'd build.

One page now. Room to grow.
